

styled for the 70's

With a Thomson T-LINE Caravan

Tow T-Line into the 70's with the new, crisp styling of Thomson caravans—have fun exploring new horizons and enjoying the companionship of new found friends. With your own T-Line trailer from Thomson, you have the best in design, finish and style—the results of over half a century of caravan experience. Craftsmanship and modern production techniques combine to give you this superlative range of travel trailers where quality is the keynote and comfort is considered in every minute detail. Travel safe in the knowledge that T-Line's robust construction—from the rigid steel chassis to its imported hardwood framing and heavy-gauge aluminium coachwork—will stand the strain of countless journeys. Travel secure in the appreciation that T-Line's design balance and features such as their hydraulic damper coupling will take the strain off you. And when you arrive, wherever you are, you'll find just what a world of difference Thomson's experience can make to your stay. The fact that things like upholstery fabrics, fitted carpets, cookers and sinks have been chosen by real experts—women who have had experience of making caravans copeable and caravan holidays so very, very, enjoyable—makes your T-Line what we want it to be, the best that money can buy.

In the following pages, and through Thomson's international network of Dealers, you will find the caravan to suit your special requirements.

T-LINE Mini glen

Specifically designed to meet the requirements of the small car owner, the Mini Glen weighs only 75% of the original British Mini car, and its wheels are interchangeable with theirs. Within its modest dimensions, there is a double bed which makes an attractive dining area in daytime, toilet compartment, end kitchen with sink/drain, griller hotplate, and a full length wardrobe. The kitchen unit embodies all the fine features of the larger caravans—luxury in miniature for the discerning couple.

Glen 2

The new decade heralds the introduction of this model—a natural complement to the T-Line range. With two single beds, convertible to a double bed, the Glen 2 provides the extra space and grace which owners of 1,000 c.c. cars can enjoy. Kitchen facilities include hotplate/griller, wash basin and draining board, water supply and there are ample lockers and space to carry all the equipment you need for the holidays of your lifetime. A chest of drawers forms the mounting for the dining table between two single divans and toilet accommodation is, of course, provided.

Glen 4

The central kitchen permits two living/sleeping areas entirely separate from each other. Just what's wanted by the modern family on the move. A four seater dinette at the rear makes into a double bed, and for the children, the front dinette converts to a single bed with bunk above. King-size wardrobe and many storage lockers cope with those extras that make the difference between comfort and luxury.

T-LINE Glendale

There's much more space than you'd think possible in this 12 footer, single beds convertible to double, designed to sleep 2, yet the Glendale will seat six in comfort. Specially selected finely polished plywood enhances the walls and is complemented by fitted carpet and rich upholstery furnishings. The rear kitchen provides all the usual T-Line facilities, yet still leaves space enough for ample wardrobe capacity, toilet accommodation, and a refrigerator

T-LINE Glennavis

This particularly compact 4 berth is easily converted to sleep 5 by the addition of the optional conversion unit. As with most T-Line models, the separate sleeping areas can be curtained off, to provide the privacy which adults—and children—appreciate. A four seater dinette forward gives ample table space for the family whilst single and bunk bed at rear provide restful night time space for the children. Interior toilet accommodation and liberal T-Line wardrobe and lockers are all included.

T-LINE Glenelg

Proved over the years to be the most popular T-Line model, the Glenelg, towed by the average family car, is a superb holiday home for four or even five with the optional double bed extension. The kitchen unit is fully equipped with gas hot plate, sink and drainer and ample storage cupboards. At the rear, the toilet compartment occupies a discreet corner position.

T-LINE Glenalmond

Some ordinary caravans will sleep 5 or even 6 persons, but clever planning enables T-Line to offer you one which will accommodate 7 persons. Basically a 4-berth containing all the outstanding T-Line features, optional bunk beds over the standard single beds at the front cope with 4. The double settee/single and bunk bed standard in the rear can be converted to sleep 3. The side kitchen contains hotplate, sink/drain and a host of roomy lockers.

T-LINE Glenmore

Unusual in to-day's trend towards uniformity, T-Line again offers something different at no extra cost. A standard 4-berth convertible to sleep 5 and with 2 doors! A feature that is especially welcomed by Continental holiday makers with a bonus of an extra large toilet compartment; truly an international caravan and just look at the big big kitchen assembly—cooking, washing and refrigerator space plus lockers and cupboards.

T-LINE Gleneagle

Big by comparison with other members of the T-Line family, it is also big in value and big in space but still has the mobility for which T-Line is rightly renowned. With an interior measurement of over 16 ft. the Gleneagle is an ultra spacious mobile holiday home for 4 or by special order for 6. Specification includes ovencooker, roomy shelved wardrobe, 2 single beds, double bed and a host of storage cupboards and lockers. Just look at the fine plywood wall panelling, the rich curtains and upholstery and the deep pile rubber underlay carpet.

T-LINE

T-Line caravans are built in Scotland where careful eyes look for value and reliability, so we are justifiably proud of the reputation for quality which they have established. From the preceding pages you will have been able to form an impression of the planning which goes into the design, the manufacture and the colour scheming of T-Line and on this page we have highlighted a few of the exterior features of the 1970 range.

If this is the quality of caravan that you have been searching for, then look no further – your local Thomson stockist will be happy to demonstrate just how admirably T-Line match up to your every requirement!
